

GUESS THE MYSTERY ARTIFACT
CAN YOU FIGURE OUT WHAT IT IS?
WHAT IS IT?

FRONT/TOP VIEW

The mystery artifact is a trivet. A trivet was used to keep warm pots or kettles above the stove or table. This kept the warm pot or kettle from damaging anything. A trivet only had three legs. The Fultz House Museum has a trivet holding a kettle in the kitchen. This trivet was made out of cast iron and was probably molded by a blacksmith.
